Connecting Teens and Seniors

Read the writing prompt below and complete the writing activity.

Activities that promote a connection between teenagers and senior citizens are gaining popularity across the nation. In New York, for example, a group of teens and senior citizens created and performed a play.

What are the benefits of pairing older and younger people? What activities could your school provide to bring teens and senior citizens together in a positive way?

Write a persuasive essay to your principal proposing an activity that would involve senior citizens and students at your school. Describe the activity in detail and explain the benefits of the activity for the school, the students, and the senior citizens.

Be sure to include
- a clear description of the activity
- an explanation of the benefits of the activity for the school, the students, and the senior citizens
- an introduction, a body, and a conclusion to your persuasive essay

NOTE: The elements of this rubric are applied holistically; no element is intended to supersede any other element. The variety and proportion of errors in relation to the length of the writing sample are considered. A very brief paper consisting of two or three sentences may receive no more than 1 score points.

These scoring rubrics are used on the spring iSTEP+ assessment in Grades 5–8.
Session three, English/Language Arts, contains a reading comprehension task. This task allows the students to demonstrate their understanding and comprehension of narrative or informational text. The reading comprehension task consists of one passage and several constructed-response (CR) questions. Because this is a reading comprehension task, all the information students need to answer the questions correctly is in the text. All responses should be based on information from the text and will be scored for reading comprehension only. The following pages show the CR questions.

An example of a top-score response is given for each CR question. The top-score response demonstrates a performance that exceeds the expectations of what is required to receive two points. The top-score response contains multiple pieces of text-based information and support drawn from the reading passage that accompanied this item, many elements of which students typically use in their responses to receive two points.

English/Language Arts

2-point Constructed-Response (CR) Rubric

- 2 points
  - Proficient
    - The response fulfills all the requirements of the task. The information given is text-based and relevant to the task.

- 1 point
  - Partially Proficient
    - The response fulfills some of the requirements of the task, but some of the information may be too general, too simplistic, or not supported by the text.

- 0 point
  - Not Proficient
    - The response does not fulfill the requirements of the task because it contains information that is inaccurate, incomplete, and/or missing altogether.
Question 1

What events in the story demonstrate Senhor Pereira’s changing opinion of Pedro? Support your answer with details from the story.

Top-Score Response:

At first, Senhor Pereira has serious doubts about whether Pedro can be a good guide. When Pedro passes by the coves where his brother had taken them fishing the year before, Senhor Pereira is not happy about it. He thinks that Pedro doesn’t know what he is doing. It isn’t until the fish begin to bite that Senhor Pereira starts to change his mind about Pedro’s abilities. By the time they get back to the dock, where they discover that they’ve caught more fish than the men in the other boat, Senhor Pereira raves about what a good guide Pedro is.

The top-score response contains multiple pieces of text-based information and support drawn from the reading passage that accompanied this item, many elements of which students typically use in their responses to receive two points.
Question 2

How does the author show that Pedro’s father is confident his son will be an effective guide? Support your answer with details from the story.

Top-Score Response:

The author shows that Pedro’s father has confidence in his son as shown through Pedro’s father’s actions. Pedro’s father lets him take his brother’s place as a guide. He doesn’t change his mind when the men question whether Pedro is old enough to be a guide. He also goes on ahead and lets Pedro make his own decision about where to take the men to fish.

Note: The top-score response demonstrates a performance that exceeds the expectations of what is required to receive two points. The top-score response contains multiple pieces of text-based information and support drawn from the reading passage that accompanied this item, many elements of which students typically use in their responses to receive two points.

Question 3

One of the themes in “The River Guide” is the importance of believing in oneself. Explain how Pedro shows that he believes in himself. Support your answer with details from the story.

Top-Score Response:

Pedro shows he believes in himself when he agrees to take his brother’s place as a guide. When Senhor Pereira says “He is just a boy” and that they were expecting an experienced guide, Pedro gets nervous, but he still guides them to a fishing spot. The men question Pedro about his choice to take them fishing near the dam rather than the coves where his brother had taken them before, but Pedro trusts his knowledge of the river. In these ways Pedro shows that he believes in himself.

Question 4

Read this article about a young woman who chased an unlikely dream of becoming a boxer. Then complete the writing activity that follows.

Camilla Smith’s father had taught her that girls could do anything that boys could. When she was 13, she asked her father if she could take boxing lessons. Little did she know that her decision would eventually lead her to qualify as a member of the United States Olympic women’s boxing team.

When she was 16, Camilla competed at the Olympic trials for women’s boxing. Her qualification match was against a United States champion, but Camilla didn’t let that bother her. She stayed calm and focused throughout the match and ended up winning the title of Outstanding Fighter. Camilla credits her confidence and determination for her success as a boxer. With her fighting spirit, it is likely that Camilla will have a long and successful career as a boxer.

Camilla was successful in part because of her confidence and determination. Write about a person, real or imaginary, who has been successful because he or she possesses these same qualities.

<td>In a Score Point 2 paper, errors are typically frequent and may cause the reader to stop and reread part of the writing. While some aspects of the writing may be more consistently correct than others, the existing errors do impair communication. With a little extra effort on the reader's part, it is still possible to discern most, if not all, of what the writer is trying to communicate.</td>

NOTE: The elements of this rubric are applied holistically; no element is intended to supersede any other element. The variety and proportion of errors in relation to the length of the writing sample are considered. A very brief paper consisting of two or three sentences may receive no more than 2 score points.

These scoring rubrics are used on the spring ISTEP+ assessment in Grades 5-8.
