

The Learning Connection

The Learning Connection is a blend between a listserv, a shared Dropbox, a Google Calendar and more. In the World Languages and Cultures Community, you can find the following benefits:

- World Language ideas for the classroom and applicable technology tips delivered to your inbox!
- A forum where you can pose questions and get responses from teachers from around Indiana!
- A repository of files and information that has been collected and filed neatly for you to access at any point (i.e. Internationalized Standards, Standards for Heritage Speakers, Integrated Performance Assessments, etc...)
- Information about scholarships (for teachers/students) and legislation that impacts you
- A calendar of professional development opportunities that are specifically applicable to WL

I commit to not overloading you and blasting a ton of messages, to putting the language in the subject line if it only pertains to a particular group so you know if you should read or delete and to making sure you know what things are happening around Indiana that pertain to you and your classroom. I encourage you to sign up today! The steps to enroll are below!
