What are standards?

Standards outline what students need to know, understand, and be able to do.

Academic standards are benchmark measures that define what students should know and be able to do at specified grade levels beginning in kindergarten and progressing through grade twelve. The standards are promulgated as state regulations. As such, they must be used as the basis for curriculum and instruction in Indiana's accredited schools. The academic standards are NOT a curriculum; therefore, identifying the sequence of instruction in each grade—what will be taught and how long—requires concerted effort and attention at the district/school level. Academic standards do not prescribe any particular curriculum. Curriculum tools are selected at the district/school level and adopted through the local school board. No student, by virtue of poverty, age, race, gender, cultural or ethnic background, disabilities, or family situation will ultimately be exempt from learning the required academic standards, although it is acknowledged that individual students may learn in different ways and at different rates. Academic standards focus on what students will need to learn in order to be college and career ready and to be competitive in the job market.
Psychology is the scientific study of mental processes and behavior. The course is divided into eight content areas. History & Scientific Method explores the history of psychology, the research methods used, and the ethical considerations that must be utilized. Biological Basis for Behavior focuses on the way the brain and nervous system function; including sensation, perception, motivation and emotion. Development looks at all the changes throughout one’s life: physical, cognitive, as well as emotional, social and moral development. Cognition focuses on learning, memory, information processing, and language development. Personality and Assessment looks at the approaches used to explain one’s personality and the assessment tools used. Abnormal Psychology explores psychological disorders and the various treatments used for them. Socio-Cultural Dimensions of Behavior covers topics such as conformity, obedience, perceptions, attitudes and influence of the group on the individual. Psychological Thinking explores how to think like a psychologist and expand critical thinking skills needed in the day-to-day life of a psychologist.

At the high school level, Indiana’s academic standards for social studies provide standards for specific courses that focus on one of the five content areas that make up the core of the social studies curriculum: history, government, geography, economics, and Individuals, Society and Culture (psychology, sociology and anthropology). One of these content areas is the major focus of the course while the other areas play supporting roles or become completely integrated into the subject matter. Each high school course continues to develop skills for thinking, inquiry and research, and participation in a democratic society.

- DOE Code: 1532 (PSYCH)
- Recommended Grade Level: None
- Recommended Prerequisites: None
- Credits: 1 or 2 semester course. 1 credit per semester.
- Counts as an Elective for the General, Core 40, Core 40 with Academic Honors and Core 40 with Technical Honors diplomas

CONTENT STANDARDS

Standard 1 — History & Scientific Method
Students discuss the history of psychology and its development as an empirical science by understanding the scientific method, explaining research strategies and identifying ethical issues.

Standard 2 — Biological Bases of Behavior
Students investigate the structure, biochemistry and circuitry of the brain and the nervous system to understand their roles in affecting behavior.

Standard 3 — Development
Students understand the process of how humans grow, learn and adapt to their environment from conception to death.

Standard 4 — Cognition
Students understand how organisms adapt to their environment through learning, information processing and memory development.

Standard 5 — Personality, Assessment, and Stress
Students recognize that personality is the distinctive and relatively stable pattern of behaviors, thoughts, motives and emotions. Students also identify the different types and functions of assessment instruments.
Standard 6 — Abnormal Psychology
Students explore the common characteristics of abnormal behavior as well as the influence culture has had on that definition. Students also identify major theories and categories of abnormal behavior. Students discuss characteristics of effective treatment and prevention of abnormal behaviors.

Standard 7 — Socio-Cultural Dimensions of Behavior
Students discuss the socio-cultural dimensions of behavior including topics such as conformity, obedience, perception, attitudes and the influence of the group on the individual.

Standard 8 — Psychological Thinking
Students explore how to think like a psychologist and expand critical thinking skills needed in the day-to-day life of a psychologist.

Standard 1: History & Scientific Method

Students discuss the history of psychology and its development as an empirical science by understanding the scientific method, explaining research strategies and identifying ethical issues.

P.1.1 Define psychology as a discipline and identify its goals as a science.

P.1.2 Explain the reasons and approaches for studying the methodology of psychology; past and present.

P.1.3 Describe the differences between descriptive and experimental research methods.

P.1.4 Explain the interaction among independent and dependent variables as well as the difference between experimental and control groups.

P.1.5 Distinguish between scientific and nonscientific research.

P.1.6 Describe the key concepts of the ethical guidelines applied by the American Psychological Association regarding the use of human and non-human animal subjects.

P.1.7 Describe the differences between quantitative and qualitative research strategies.

P.1.8 Define correlation coefficients and explain their appropriate interpretation.

P.1.9 Analyze human behavior from modern day perspectives in psychology.
Standard 2: Biological Bases of Behavior

Students investigate the structure, biochemistry and circuitry of the brain and the nervous system to understand their roles in affecting behavior.

P.2.1
Describe the structure and function of the major regions of the brain; specifically the forebrain, hindbrain, midbrain, and the four lobes.

P.2.2
Compare and contrast between the left and right hemispheres of the brain and identify how vision, motor, language and other functions are regulated by each hemisphere.

P.2.3
Describe the structure and function of the neuron and describe the basic process of neural transmission.

P.2.4
Compare and contrast the methods for studying the brain.

P.2.5
Identify the major divisions and subdivisions of the nervous system and describe how they function.

P.2.6
Analyze the structure and function of the endocrine system and its effect on human behavior.

P.2.7
Compare and contrast the effect of neurotransmitters on human behavior.

Standard 3: Development

Students understand the process of how humans grow, learn and adapt to their environment from conception to death.

P.3.1
Explain the role of prenatal and post-natal development on human development.

P.3.2
Explain the physical, motor, and perceptual development of infants.

P.3.3
Understand the physical, motor and cognitive development of children.

P.3.4
Describe the physical, cognitive, and moral changes that occur during adolescence.

P.3.5
Understand the major physical, cognitive, and social issues that accompany adulthood and aging.

P.3.6
Explain how nature and nurture influence human development.

P.3.7
Describe the theories of various developmental psychologists.
Standard 4: Cognition

Students understand how organisms adapt to their environment through learning, information processing and memory.

P.4.1 Explain the process of learning, including principles of operant, classical, and observational

P.4.2 Differentiate between learning, reflexes, and fixed-action patterns

P.4.3 Explain the concept of learned helplessness.

P.4.4 Describe the processes of memory, including encoding, storage, and retrieval.

P.4.5 Differentiate between the three different stages of memory, including sensory, short-term, and long-term.

P.4.6 Identify the factors that interfere with memory.

P.4.7 Discuss various strategies that can be used to improve memory.

P.4.8 Compare and contrast between explicit and implicit memory.

P.4.9 Discuss the obstacles and strategies involved in problem solving.

P.4.10 Identify key psychologists in the fields of learning and cognition and explain the impact of their contributions.

P.4.11 Describe language development in humans.

Standard 5: Personality, Assessment and Stress

Students recognize that personality is the distinctive and relatively stable pattern of behaviors, thoughts, motives and emotions. Students also identify the different types and functions of assessment instruments.

P.5.1 Identify the major psychologists involved in the study of personality and describe the main characteristics of their theories.

P.5.2 Distinguish between objective and projective techniques of personality assessment and give examples of each.

P.5.3 Distinguish between stress and distress.

P.5.4 Identify environmental factors that lead to stress.

P.5.5 Explain Hans Seyle's General Adaptation Syndrome (GAS).

P.5.6 Evaluate the influences of variables, such as culture, family and genetics, on personality development and identify the psychologists associated with each.
Standard 6: Abnormal Psychology

Students explore the common characteristics of abnormal behavior as well as the influence culture has had on that definition. Students also identify major theories and categories of abnormal behavior. Students discuss characteristics of effective treatment and prevention of abnormal behaviors.

P.6.1 Describe the common characteristics of abnormal behavior.

P.6.2 Explain how both cultural and historical influences have affected the definition of abnormal behavior.

P.6.3 Identify and describe the theories of abnormality.

P.6.4 Discuss major categories of abnormal behavior and distinguish which disorders fit under which categories – DSM-IV/DSM-V.

P.6.5 Describe availability and appropriateness of various modes of treatment and prevention for people with psychological disorders.

Standard 7: Socio-Cultural Dimensions of Behavior

Students discuss the socio-cultural dimensions of behavior including topics such as conformity, obedience, perception, attitudes and the influence of the group on the individual.

P.7.1 Understand and identify social norms and how they differ across cultures.

P.7.2 Explain how perceptions and attitudes develop, including attribution theory, fundamental attribution error, Actor-observer bias, self-serving bias, central vs. peripheral route of persuasion, and cognitive dissonance.

P.7.3 Analyze the studies that lead to current understandings of conformity, obedience, nonconformity, and compliance.

P.7.4 Explain the concepts of groupthink and group polarization.

P.7.5 Discuss the various types of conflict and the processes involved in conflict resolution.

P.7.6 Explain how stereotypes, prejudice, and discrimination influence behavior.

Standard 8: Psychological Thinking

Students explore how to think like a psychologist and expand critical thinking skills needed in the day-to-day life of a psychologist.

P.8.1 Understand the six steps involved in critical thinking; knowledge, comprehension, application, analysis, synthesis, and evaluation.

P.8.2 Locate and analyze primary sources of landmark experiments in psychology and other counter arguments.

P.8.3 Construct a testable hypothesis and apply the principles of research design to an appropriate experiment.
Indiana Academic Standards
Content Area Literacy: History/Social Studies
Approved April 2014
Guiding Principle: Students develop discipline-specific reading and writing skills. Within the areas of History/Social Studies, students apply these skills in order to develop a deeper understanding of the content area.

There are six key areas found in the Literacy in History/Social Studies section for grades 6-12: Key Ideas and Textual Support, Structural Elements and Organization, Synthesis and Connection of Ideas, Writing Genres, the Writing Process, and the Research Process. By demonstrating the skills listed in each section, students should be able to meet the Learning Outcome for Literacy in History/Social Studies.

Note that the standards in this section are not designed for implementation in an English/Language Arts classroom. Instead, they provide guidance to content area teachers in grades 6-12 (e.g., History/Social Studies teachers, Science teachers, Career and Technical Education teachers, etc.) on expectations for integrating reading and writing skills into their classrooms.

In Literacy in History/Social Studies, students are expected to do the following:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>LH.1: LEARNING OUTCOME FOR LITERACY IN HISTORY/SOCIAL STUDIES</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Read and comprehend history/social studies texts independently and proficiently, and write effectively for a variety of discipline-specific tasks, purposes, and audiences</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>GRADES 6-8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6-8.LH.1.1: Read and comprehend history/social studies texts within a range of complexity appropriate for grades 6-8 independently and proficiently by the end of grade 8.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6-8.LH.1.2: Write routinely over a variety of time frames for a range of discipline-specific tasks, purposes, and audiences.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
LH.2: KEY IDEAS AND TEXTUAL SUPPORT (READING)
Extract and construct meaning from history/social studies texts using a variety of comprehension skills

<table>

<td>11-12.LH.2.1: Cite specific textual evidence to support analysis of primary and secondary sources, connecting insights gained from specific details to an understanding of the text as a whole.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6-8.LH.2.2: Determine the central ideas or information of a primary or secondary source; provide an accurate summary of the source distinct from prior knowledge or opinions.</td>
<td>9-10.LH.2.2: Determine the central ideas or information of a primary or secondary source; provide an accurate summary of how key events or ideas develop over the course of the text.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6-8.LH.2.3: Identify key steps in a text’s description of a process related to history/social studies (e.g., how a bill becomes a law, how interest rates are raised or lowered).</td>
<td>9-10.LH.2.3: Analyze in detail a series of events described in a text; determine whether earlier events caused later ones or simply preceded them.</td>
<td>11-12.LH.2.3: Evaluate various explanations for actions or events, and determine which explanation best accords with textual evidence, acknowledging where the text leaves matters uncertain.</td>

<td>11-12.LH.3.1: Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including analyzing how an author uses and refines the meaning of a key term over the course of a text (e.g., how Madison defines faction in Federalist No. 10).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6-8.LH.3.2: Describe how a text presents information (e.g., sequentially, comparatively, causally).</td>
<td>9-10.LH.3.2: Analyze how a text uses structure to emphasize key points or advance an explanation or analysis.</td>
<td>11-12.LH.3.2: Analyze in detail how a complex primary source is structured, including how key sentences, paragraphs, and larger portions of the text contribute to the whole.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6-8.LH.3.3: Identify aspects of a text that reveal an author’s perspective or purpose (e.g., loaded language, inclusion or avoidance of particular facts).</td>
<td>9-10.LH.3.3: Compare the perspectives of two or more authors for how they treat the same or similar topics, including which details they include and emphasize in their respective accounts.</td>
<td>11-12.LH.3.3: Evaluate authors’ differing perspectives on the same historical event or issue by assessing the authors’ claims, reasoning, and evidence.</td>
