ASCA Announces 2016 RAMP Schools

For immediate release – May 10, 2016

ALEXANDRIA, VA. – This year, 76 schools will receive the Recognized ASCA Model Program (RAMP) designation during a special ceremony at the American School Counselor Association’s annual conference in New Orleans, La. The schools will be honored on July, 11, 2016, for making an exemplary commitment to comprehensive school counseling programs.

The RAMP designation, awarded for aligning with the criteria in the ASCA National Model, recognizes schools that are committed to delivering a comprehensive, data-driven school counseling program and an exemplary educational environment. Since the program’s inception, nearly 600 schools have been designated as RAMP recipients.

This year RAMP designations were awarded for the first time to schools in Idaho, South Dakota and Washington. RAMP-designated schools are now in 43 states in the United States. The RAMP designation is good for five years, after which time schools must reapply to maintain their RAMP status.

“This year’s RAMP honorees have shown their commitment to students and the school counseling profession,” said Jill Cook, ASCA assistant director. “These schools used data to drive their program development and implementation so all students can achieve success. RAMP designation distinguishes these schools and encourages school counselors nationwide to strive for excellence.”
