^a It is possible for this type of account to have this permission, but only if they have been assigned a data collection and linked to at least one student enrollment by a data manager (i.e., in the KReady system, the user is able to click on the data collection link and then view a roster with at least one student name).

^b Administrators and data managers receive access to the professional development sites if they attend a training or receive the PIN to access the site. They are not required to access these sites unless they are administering ISPROUT (i.e.; entering ratings).
