EL.6.2 2006 - READING: Comprehension and Analysis of Nonfiction and Informational Text

Students read and understand grade-level-appropriate material. The selections in the Indiana Reading List illustrate the quality and complexity of the materials to be read by students. At Grade 6, in addition to regular classroom reading, students read a variety of nonfiction, such as biographies, autobiographies, books in many different subject areas, magazines, newspapers, reference and technical materials, and online information.

EL.6.2.1 2006

Structural Features of Informational and Technical Materials:

Identify the structural features of popular media (newspapers, magazines, online information) and use the features to obtain information.

Example: Do a keyword search on the Internet to find information for a research report. Use the section headers for a newspaper to locate information for a report on current world events.

Example: After reading an article by one author on the reasons for repopulating western national parks with wolves and another article by a different author reporting ranchers' opposition to the program, describe the ways each author tries to persuade the reader.
