
Assessment is derived from assidere to sit with or beside.
It is something we do with and for a student, not something we do to them.

Formative Assessment Professional Development Day

June 5 and June 22
8:30am – 3:00pm
(same workshops presented both days)

Indiana Government Center South Auditorium
302 W Washington St, Indianapolis, IN 46204

This day is designed for assessment coordinators and instructional coaches. Due to limited space, each corporation is invited to choose one representative to attend and internalize key messages to share locally.

Keynote Speaker: Ellen Forte, Ph.D.
Ellen will be discussing assessment as an integral part of designing and implementing strategies for valid evaluations. Workshops will focus on assessment literacy, creating an assessment system, and assessments in the content areas. This will be an extension of the Targeting Students Needs using Formative Assessment series presented this past year.

The below topics will be offered in breakout session format. An IDOE Office of Assessment session will present new resources and a panel discussion with school corporation representatives will also be part of the day. A more detailed agenda will be sent to all registered participants prior to the event.
(Note: Breakout presentations will not be recorded.)

- Developing a Balanced System of Assessments
- Developing Strong Classroom Assessments
- Strengthening Formative Practices in Daily Instruction
- Introduction to Desmos: Calculator Functions and Activities
- Desmos: Data Collection and Formative Assessment Tools
- Strategies for Classroom Assessment
- Balanced Assessment in Math
- Balanced Assessment in English/Language Arts
- Balanced Assessment in Science
