

How to Access Racial/Ethnic Data for Child Nutrition Programs

1. Go to the website <http://www.stats.indiana.edu/index.asp>.

The screenshot shows the STATS INDIANA website interface. At the top, there is a search bar with the text "What are you looking for?" and a "Google Custom Search" button. Below the search bar, there is a navigation menu with "County" selected. A dropdown menu is open, listing various Indiana counties from Adams to Hamilton. To the right of the dropdown is a "Go" button. Below the dropdown, there is a "Region" dropdown menu and another "GO" button. On the left side of the page, there is a sidebar with the text "Indiana IN DEPTH profile" and "Indiana's Public Data Utility". Below this, there is a section titled "Indiana" with the text "Became the 19th state in 1816". Further down, there are statistics for the state, including "State Capital: Indianapolis", "Largest City: Indianapolis Consolidated (2014)", "Population per Square Mile: 184.1", and "Square Miles: 35,826.1". At the bottom of the sidebar, there is a table titled "Population over Time" with columns for "Year" and "Number". The table shows data for "Yesterday (2010)", "Today (2014)", and "Tomorrow (2020 projection)*".

- Scroll down the page until you find Population Estimates by Race and Hispanic Origin, 2016.
